

LOCAL NEWS

Hearts and Hands Quilt Guild of Scottsdale holds a 'sew-in'

From left: Martha Luppold, Lola Ayers, Vicki Uery, Pat Peden, Fay Pritts and Phyllis Sager.

The Hearts and Hands Quilt Guild recently held a "sew-in" for charity with 14 members attending at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

When the sewing machines stopped that day, the guild had completed four Civil War Sanitary Commission Reproduction quilts, which the group would give to families of fallen soldiers and to wounded soldiers in southwestern Pennsylvania.

Also more than six baby quilts will be donated to Alternatives, Yes Pregnancy Support Center in Connellsville.

The Hearts and Hands Quilt Guild meets the second Thursday of each month in the social hall of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Scottsdale. If you know a wounded soldier or the family of a fallen soldier from the southwest Pennsylvania area please e-mail information to westieut@hotmail.com.

If you would like more information about the quilt guild you can also use that e-mail or call 724-887-4682.

From left: Diane Embly, Vi Croushore and Cheryl Pallygus.